

In Shepton Town they took a fine survey
And counted out the number of people's feet
Then discovered with a great "Hoorah"
The mode thought their allocation "neat"
They analysed results with great conviction
Using measures of central tendency
Most people had the median allocation
But more than the mean had the vast majority

